Professional Management Services

The following firms provide professional management services to woodland owners. They are all graduate foresters who cooperate with the Texas Forest Service in efforts to implement forest management practices through their consulting services. These services may include timber marketing, appraisals, management plans, and other forestry activities. They do not purchase timber or forestland. They charge a fee for their services, usually either a set rate or a percentage of any timber sale proceeds.

Forest Products Companies

The following forest products companies offer a variety of services to woodland owners. These services include a reconnaissance of the property to evaluate timber marketing, timber stand improvement, and reforestation possibilities. These services are generally provided at no charge to the landowner. No fees are charged for marking timber and recording volumes in a sale, provided that company is allowed to purchase the timber. Costs are usually charged for these services if the timber is sold to a competitor.
