Fall Firewise Reminder

It’s almost football season in Texas and, as always, a good offense and defense will be important. The same holds true in protecting your home from wildfires. If flammable vegetation surrounds your home, go on the offense and do a few simple things to defend the structure from the threat of an approaching wildfire. Yes, just like football, a good defense is very important. For more information concerning Firewise homes, contact your local Texas A&M Forest Service office or visit texasfirewise.com.
